History of trains

Trains have been a popular form of transport since the 19th century. When the first steam train was built in 1804, people were concerned that they would travel too fast and cause breathing difficulty for the passengers. By the 1850s, many people were using trains to travel around the country. Rail travel was cheap so people could now afford to travel across the country to visit friends. In some places, new towns started to appear next to the railways.
